TASTE PROFILES:

Forty Creek Barrel Select Whisky is smooth and mellow with robust vanilla, caramel and roasted walnut aromas and complex flavors of toffee, white pepper and malt spice notes.

Forty Creek Copper Pot Reserve Whisky offers a bold whisky with a depth of flavor. Toffee, nutmeg and orange zest aromas complement the forward rye notes, spice and maple syrup flavors with notes of bright stonefruit and a hint of sweetness.

Forty Creek Double Barrel Reserve Whisky has a wonderful golden roasted aroma filled with deep vanilla notes and highlighted with toasted spice, pecan and walnuts. There is a caramelized creaminess to the flavor with a rich spice that lifts it off the tongue. The finish is very smooth, mellow and extra long.

Forty Creek Confederation Oak Reserve Whisky is a very full-bodied whisky with constantly evolving, complex aromas and flavors. It begins with aromas of maple-raisin-vanilla-fig, layers of praline, banana, butter cream, honeyed nuts, marzipan, spice and orange blossoms. As it lingers, dark dried fruits and anise evolve. On the palate, full-bodied vanilla, butter cream and pepper spice flavors are nicely framed with oak, walnut and smoke. A long-lingering finish offers fading spice and white pepper.
